Foreword

The publication of this, the 1934 "Quill," will mark the thirtieth year of a continuous record of Marion High School events and activities. Thirty years of uninterrupted publication, a record of which any school might well be proud.

We, the 1934 "Quill" staff, hope that this chapter of the "Quill" will be given a cherished place in your volume of "Marion High School Days—Past and Present."

MARION HIGH

"All are architects of fate,
Working in these walls of time;
Some with massive deeds and great,
Some with ornaments of rhyme.

Build today, then, strong and sure,
With a firm and ample base;
And ascending and secure
Shall tomorrow find its place."

Charles Burch

DEDICATION

to

Our Janitor, Charlie Burch

We, the class of '34, respectfully dedicate this "Quill," the seventeenth chapter in the written history of Marion High School, to Charlie, whom we sincerely consider to be the best janitor this school has ever had, a gocd friend to every student and teacher, a loyal supporter of Marion High School, and a fine gentleman.

ADMINISTRATION

IRVING FINGER . Superintendent

Commercial Law, Civics

"Each common day has moments
we can treasure:
A laugh, a lovely sight, a friendly speech.
They're like those gold-flecked
pebbles we discover
Among the dull grey pebbles
on the beach."

DELBERT J. PUGH.....Principal

American History

"Little worries swarm like gnats
And cloud the brightest day—
And yet the wind of common sense
Could sweep them all away."

Ila Anthony, Mrs. Bragg, Ruth Crew, J. Cummins
Gretchen Mentzer, H. Pye, Ruth Rummens

Faculty

ILA ANTHONY.....Home Economics

"Musicians win both wealth and fame
With tremolos and quavers—
Why are not cooks immortalized
For symphonies in flavors?"

MRS. INA W. BRAGG.....Librarian

"Life is most mysterious,
But though it's hard to see
A bit of reason for it all
It means a lot to me."

RUTH CREW.....Physical Training

"I like the poor old world, I do.
I sing its praise in ode and sonnet—
It's strange it's not a whole lot worse
With everybody picking on it."

JACK CUMMINS.....Manual Training, Basketball Coach

"My possessions belong to my friends,
But I must have it known
Though freely I'd part with my wealth,
That my time is my own."

GRETCHEN J. MENTZER.....History, Commercial Geography

"Delicate things are the truest things—
The lightest word or thought or touch
Means more than loud and heavy speech
That lies because it says too much."

HUBURT E. PYE.....Biology, General Science, Physiology
Assistant Football Coach

"I simply long to travel,
To visit every place,
And meet the various members
Of the only human race."

RUTH RUMMENS.....Algebra, Geometry

"I live each moment to the full,
For though they soon are gone,
Piled up they'll make me quite a past
To build my future on."

Margaret Schrubbe, J. H. Shutts, Adelaide Steenbergen, Rose Wilcox
D. Wolfe, Margaret Wood, Vera Wood

Faculty

MARGARET SCHRUBBE ..... English

"The books I like the best are those
That give us more than what they say—
They simply open countless doors
Through which our thoughts can roam away."

JAMES HERVEY SHUTTS..... Physics, Algebra, Solid Geometry

"When I relinquish thoughts of wealth
And quit its blind and futile chase,
Freed from possessing little things,
I'll own instead all time, all space."

ADELAIDE STEENBERGEN ..... Commercial

"It's not by hoarding wealth or love
That man grows rich, I see—
The more I freely give to live
The more life gives to me.

ROSE L. WILCOX..... Music Supervisor

"I swear that I'll relax today.
My nerves are simply overtaxed—
Right now I'm all worked up and tense;
I'm trying so to be relaxed."

DONALD P. WOLFE..... Economics, Civics, Commercial Law Sociology, Coach

"The whole world changes everyday.
Why even mountains wear away.
And yet at times I lag behind
And boast, 'I never change my mind'."

MARGARET WOOD ..... English

"I'm always late to everything.
My friends are most sarcastic.
I wish that it could be arranged
That time were more elastic."

VERA WOOD..... Latin, English

"I long for a life of more leisure;
I rush through the day till it feels
As if I am chasing tomorrow
While yesterday snaps at my heels."

Class History

In September, 1930, the goodship "'34" left the shores of Eighth Grade and with its crew of eighty-five set out for the Land of Commencement. Each sailor was, of course, equipped with the necessary articles for a safe voyage.

As soon as all were on board and the gangplank pulled in, the sailors began their various tasks in Algebra, Latin, English, etc. The ship proceeded full speed ahead under the direction of General Bragg. She was assisted by several mates—President, Garth Hunter; Vice-President, Harriett McDonnell; Secretary, Clinton Gatewood, and Treasurer, Marian Burrows. For the first three years the admiral, Mr. Vernon, oversaw the fleet and sometimes some lazy sailor was called into conference with him.

After some time of hard labor, the sailors began to show some signs of improvement. "X—Y=Z" was no longer a mystery. They joined glee clubs, band, E. N. T. club, G. A. A. club, and G. R. in great numbers. Le Nora Dippel, Henry Arp, and Lyle Van Fossen represented the "34" in debate; and George Alcock, in declam. A number of the crew went out for athletics; Bob Smith won a letter in football. George Hennessey represented the ship in the state academic meet in general science.

Social events marked the first year of the journey. One of them was the first Homecoming Dance for the whole fleet.

Because of their faithfulness the sailors were all given a leave of absence for three months.

In the fall most of the sailors returned, and the ship began on the second part of its journey with Captain Ruth Rummens. The officers elected were Garth Hunter, President; Marian Burrows, Vice-President;

Dale Smith, Secretary; and Mary Adelaide Albaugh, Treasurer. A number of parties were enjoyed by the crew this year.

Also the shipmates settled down to harder work. More were included in band and glee club. A second year Latin club was formed by Miss Hunt. In debate our record was upheld by Le Nora Dippel, Lyle Van Fossen, and Martin Atkins. Three of the crew were taken in as members of the "M" club: Bob Shirley, Garth Hunter, and Dale Smith. In the state academic meet, our ship was represented by Robert Titus, James Vernon, Melvin Oldfather, and Mary Adelaide Albaugh.

This year and the following vacation passed so quickly that before long we were in the third stage of our long trip. The seamen were under the guidance of Miss Vera Wood, assisted by four members of the "34": Melvin Oldfather as President, Warren Hunter as Vice-President, Allan King as Secretary, and George Oxley as Treasurer, were mates.

More of the crew added to the "M" club were Kenneth Winter, Jim Reynolds, Allan King, Warren Hunter, and Clinton Gatewood. In debate were found the two old faithfuls—Le Nora Dippel and Lyle Van Fossen. Representatives at academic meets were Robert Titus, James Vernon, Rayworth Ozias, and Bessie Neff. Bessie placed second in biology. Four of the crew of the "34" were elected to Delta Sigma Delta; they were Byrdena Cunningham, Le Nora Dippel, Robert Titus, and Melvin Oldfather.

Instead of the customary three-act play, this year the crew under the direction of Miss Barnett presented three one-act plays. The mariners who worked hard to make these the success they were included Winfred Davis, Frank Flack, Don Fish, James Vernon, Robert Smith, Janet Lothian, Dorothy Smith, Margaret Bisek, Mable Coon, Arline Starry, Margaret Zak, and Mary Adelaide Albaugh.

A post-exam jubilee was held by the crews of the "33" and "34". But the huge success of the year was the Junior-Senior Banquet, held, after much controversy, in the I. O. O. F. Hall. It was as big an event as planned, and everyone of the crew enjoyed it.

Next autumn after a vacation, the crew of the "34" was impressed with the fact that this was the last portion of their long sea journey. Admiral Vernon's post was filled by Mr. Finger for the last year. Mr. Shutts was captain and the mates this year were President, Bob Shirley; Vice-President, Garth Hunter; Secretary, Walter Heffron, and Treasurer, Laura Shirley.

Our football team under Captain Garth Hunter had an undefeated season; those winning M's were Devere Fehr, Donovan Price, and Richard Hatt. Six more of the crew were elected to Delta Sigma Delta; Dale Smith, George Oxley, Henry Arp, Frances De Long, Eleanor Hanna, and Mary Adelaide Albaugh.

Plans were made for our year book under the editor, Melvin Oldfather.

To climax this lengthy journey will be baccalaureate, class day, and the banquet. But when the Land of Commencement is reached, it will be through the last and final port, Graduation.

JUNIOR CLASS

The junior class of 1934 set out on the third year of their high school journey sixty-eight strong. Their first official act was to elect officers as follows: Robert Munsen, President; Billy Campbell, Vice-President; Kenneth Potter, Secretary; Lois Lockwood, Treasurer. Their first party was a weiner roast at Shaeffer Park in October. They also joined the seniors in a dance the latter part of November.

Several juniors are members of the glee club; others are interested in declam, and their ability was easily recognized in the successful and clever junior play.

Four juniors, Robert Munsen, Jeannette Titus, Margaret Albaugh, and Billy Reed, were elected to Delta Sigma Delta, national honorary society.

Sophomore Class

In September Marion High School's largest class elected the following officers: President, Ross Edwards; Vice-President, Donald Haines; Secretary, Richard Derflinger; Treasurer, Margaret Forbes. Miss Rummens was named Class Sponsor.

After two months of study, the class enjoyed a class party on October 27.

The sophomores are especially honored this year to have the 1934 football captain, Ivan King, chosen from their number. Three sophomores received football letters this year; namely, Ivan King, Junior Reed, and Ross Edwards. Several others were members of the squad. The class was also very well represented in declam, music, debate, and other athletics, and many of the academic honors were received by this class last spring.

Freshmen Class

The class of 1937 entered Marion High School eighty-four strong. Their chosen leaders were Charles Hagerman, President; Mary Bisek, Vice-President; Norman Johnson, Secretary; and Joe Cira, Treasurer.

Their first social affair last fall was a weiner roast at Cook's pond. Early this spring on March 10, they enjoyed roller skating at the Armory in Cedar Rapids.

The class is very well represented in all of the school activities, including music, athletics, and declam.

Mrs. Ina Bragg is sponsor of the class.

Boys' Glee Club

Miss Wilcox's outstanding ability as a musical director is very evident in the Boys' Glee Club, which is composed of thirty members. The club has appeared at several performances.

The Boys' Quartette is composed of Garth Hunter, Harold Horn, George Oxley, and Howard Miller. They appeared at a meeting of the Lions' Club. Frank Flack is accompanist for the group.

A mixed chorus of sixty voices gave the Christmas cantata, entitled "Glad Tidings of Great Joy," written by Richard Kountz. A mixed group sang as a choir at the W. C. T. U. State Convention.

Last year's Mixed Chorus, composed of thirty-six members, was the first group from Marion to enter a state contest. The chorus received superior rating at both Monticello and Waterloo, besides participating in the state contest at Iowa City on May 4, 1933.

Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club, composed of twenty-eight members, is under the direction of Miss Rose Wilcox. The club appeared at the State W. C. T. U. Convention, besides singing carols during the Christmas season. The group will also appear in the music contest in the spring.

The girls' small vocal group is composed of Jeannette Titus, Lorraine Cruise, Margaret Jacobs, Mabel Williams, Eleanor Hanna, Lois Lockwood, Evelyn Peterson, Florence Oakley, and Marguerite Michel. Anna Helen Martin is accompanist for this group, which entertained at the junior high assembly, Thanksgiving service, Eastern Star meeting, and a Christmas movie.

Soprano, alto, tenor, and bass soloists will be chosen by a home elimination contest.

The members of the mixed quartette are Margaret Jacobs, Arminta Davidson, Billy Campbell, and Robert Titus. Lois Lockwood accompanies the group.

Instrumental Music Department

The instrumental department of music under the supervision of Mr. Popejoy has enjoyed another successful year.

The state music contest, which is held every year under the auspices of the University of Iowa, is the goal toward which every music student works and is partly the means of determining the success of the department.

This year the band and solos again took high honors at the sub-district contest held at Monticello. The band, which played as a selected number the class A required number, "Finlandia," was ranked superior. The other entries with their rankings follow: Woodwind Sextette, superior, composed of Robert Titus, Ruth Murphey, clarinets; Anna Helen Martin, alto clarinet; Helen Pyle, oboe; Hilmar Christianson, bassoon; Lewis Harlan, French horn; brass quartette, superior, composed of John Titus, Richard Little, cornets; Donald Bragg, Gaylord Ward, trombones; clarinet solo, superior, Robert Titus; trombone solo, superior, Donald Bragg; oboe solo, superior, Helen Pyle; tuba solo, superior, Melvin Oldfather; French horn solo, excellent, Lewis Harlan; baritcne solo, superior, Carrie Hanson; violin solo, superior, Harold Horn; piano solo, excellent, Frank Flack. All but the French horn and piano soloists will participate in the district contest at Washington April 12, 13, and 14.

Besides the contest the band appeared at weekly concerts during the summer, at basketball and football games, at pep meetings, a vesper concert, and the home concert.

Academic Meet

Tests were given in sixteen different subjects in the Iowa State Academic Meet last year. The first three winners in each subject represented Marion in the district contest. The highest in each of the ten districts participated in the state meet at Iowa City. The following students entered the state contest:

English correctness 9, Helen Pyle; English correctness 10, Anna Helen Martin and Jeannette Titus; English correctness 11, Robert Titus and James Vernon; English correctness 12, Ada Fernow, Jean Dow, and Raymond Smith; American Government, Mary Lockwood and James Vernon; Algebra, Elmerine Davis; American Literature, Laura Shirley; English Literature, Ada Fernow and Seigle Fleisher; General Science, Claire Beach and Melvin Clark; Biology, Dorothy Burrows, Bessie Neff, and Rayworth Ozias; Physics, Richard Knowlton; World History, Margaret Albaugh; American History, Robert Titus.

Eight of these contestants placed in the highest ten in their respective subjects; namely, Elmerine Davis, Bessie Neff, Melvin Clark, Helen Pyle, Margaret Albaugh, Robert Titus, Mary Lockwood, and James Vernon.

Delta Sigma Delta

Six years ago the Marion chapter of the National Honorary Society was organized. The society is sponsored by the Department of Secondary School Principals of the National Education Association. Membership is based upon the scholarship, leadership, character, and service of the individuals who are chosen from the junior and senior classes.

The officers are: Le Nora Dippel, President; Melvin Oldfather, Vice-President; Byrdena Cunningham, Secretary; Robert Titus, Treasurer. Miss Adelaide Steenbergen, Miss Margaret Wood, and Mr. Delbert Pugh are sponsors of the group.

Debate

The Marion High School debaters have occupied most of the available air for the last six months whole-heartedly campaigning for and against the proposition, "Resolved: That the United States should adopt the essential features of the British system of radio operation and control." About twenty enthusiastic students reported for work at the beginning of the season, but the squad was finally reduced to seven. Those who composed the teams were as follows: First affirmative, Blanche Hamm, Ruth Murray; First negative, Le Nora Dippel, Lyle Van Fossen; Alternatives, Ruby Neff, Vincent Hatt, Allan McKean. Approximately thirty debates were participated in; the high light of the season was a round robin tournament with Vinton, Oelwein, Marion, and Independence. Both Dippel and Van Fossen, who have been members of the debate squad for four years, will graduate with the class of '34.

1934 DEBATE SCHEDULE

Jan. 8—Cornell College freshmen, there, non-decision, four debates.
Jan. 9—Iowa City High School, here, won all three debates.
Jan. 13—Round robin tournament with Independence, Oelwein, and Vinton at Vinton, non-decision, seven debates.
Jan. 15—Washington High School, here, non-decision, three debates.
Jan. 17—Iowa City High School, there, won all three debates.
Jan. 27—Maquoketa High School, there, non-decision, four debates.
Feb. 1—Elkader High School, here, non-decision, four debates.
Feb. 6—Washington High School (state series), there, one lost, one won, two debates.

Back Row—Edward Ferreter, Le Nora Dippel.
Front Row—Arminta Davidson, Miss Schrubbe, Coach.

Declamation

Marion High School established a new record in speech work when forty-five energetic students appeared for declamation practice at the beginning of the season. The preliminary elimination contest was held January 16, when the squad was reduced to eleven. Those who survived were as follows: Oratorical, Le Nora Dippel, Naomi Nickeson, Vincent Hatt; Dramatic, Byrdena Cunningham, Arminta Davidson, Jean Slife, Arline Starry; Humorous, Esther Cunningham, Edward Ferreter, Ruth Murray, Alice Wallace. Judges were Ruth Rummens, Margaret Wood, and Hervey Shutts of the High School faculty.

Winners in the Home Contest held February 16 were Dippel, Davidson, and Ferreter, with Nickeson, B. Cunningham, and Wallace placing second. The critic judge was Mrs. F. V. Orr of Cedar Rapids.

In February Marion was host to Lisbon for the state preliminaries in which Marion took first in the dramatic and humorous divisions. Judges were Mrs. Juniata Caldwell Laser, Mrs. Aulden Griffin, and Miss Roberta Sheets. On March 15 the Marion team went to Hopkinton for the sub-district contest in which Arminta Davidson placed second, and Edward Ferreter was third in their respective classes.

ATHLETICS

Coach Wolfe, Football, Track, Freshman Basketball

Coaches

J. O. CUMMINS

A newcomer on the Marion High coaching staff, "Jack", bringing with him from another school a record he may well be proud of and a new system of basketball play with which the limited basketball material was unfamiliar, began to build a team by aiming not especially at a winning team but a team well versed in the fundamentals of basketball. Although the season's record may not be particularly impressive to the casual observer, it is still significant that "Jack" was accomplishing things, for as the season progressed the scores indicated that the boys were learning and also playing a better brand of basketball. Near the end of the season the team came into its own and demonstrated what we may expect from Cummins-coached teams in the coming years.

H. E. PYE

Undoubtedly part of the credit for the excellent record inscribed in the history of our school by a team which can only be described in superlatives is rightfully deserved by Mr. Pye. In his first year as a member of the coaching staff of Marion High School, Mr. Pye not only became popular and well-liked by all with whom he came in contact, but also proved to be of no small value in helping develop a winning team. We feel quite sure that in the future Mr. Pye will help turn out more good football teams.

D. P. WOLFE

An all-around athlete himself, Coach Wolfe in his six years as athletic mentor of Marion High School has proven his ability to impart his knowledge and skill to his protegees by turning out many successful athletic teams in recent years. However, he has not limited his activities to turning out winning teams, but has also exerted a remarkable influence on the characters of his athletes and their schoolmates by the earnest endeavors in behalf of good sportsmanship and good fellowship which are characteristic of Coach Wolfe. He is respected, esteemed, admired, and looked up to by the students of Marion High not only because of his success in producing good athletic teams, but because he is such a vital factor in maintaining that elusive, indefinable something called school spirit.

Football Squad

Tri-Valley Champions

The Marion High football squad of 1933 continued the fine play that has featured Cardinal clad teams for five years. Although playing one of the hardest schedules ever attempted by a Marion team, the squad came through with eight wins and one tie out of nine games played. The Tri-Valley championship came to Marion as a result of the wins over Manchester and Independence and the tie with Vinton.

Prospects were not good at the beginning of the season as only five lettermen were back from the great 1932 team. Every line post had to be filled with untried material, and one new man had to be broken into the backfield. The team improved with every start, however, and by mid-season a successful record was assured.

Outstanding games were played with Tipton, Vinton, and Anamosa. The Turkey Day game, played at Anamosa, was won by the large score of 33 to 7, when Bob Smith and Captain Hunter ran wild behind the excellent blocking of their team-mates.

Letters were awarded to Captain Hunter, Robert Smith, Clinton Gatewood, Donovan Price, Junior Reed, Dale Smith, Allan King, Ross Edwards, DeVere Fehr, Ivan King, Richard Hatt, Robert Widger, Robert Shirley, and Manager George Oxley.

Basketball

The 1933-34 basketball squad of about forty candidates reported to Coach Cummins at the beginning of cage practice. After a few weeks of scrimmage, the squad was cut to seventeen, of which four were lettermen: Captain Robert Smith, Robert Shirley, Dale Smith, and Kenneth Winter.

Prospects were bright at the beginning of the season because of the lettermen, the reserves from last year's squad, and some promising sophomores. However, the boys couldn't seem to settle down and click. After a slow start, in which the squad had to accustom themselves to the Cummins style of play, they developed rapidly.

Only two of the regular scheduled games were won, but by the time of the sectional tournament, the team found its stride and staged the highlight of the show, as well as the 1933-34 season, by defeating Grant, 23-20. Marion's old traditional rival, Anamosa, was also defeated by a score of 35-7 in the semi-finals, but the finals were dropped to Washington High of Cedar Rapids.

Robert Smith and Robert Shirley ended three years of brilliant competition by being selected as guard and center, respectively, on the all-sectional tournament team.

Letter winners for the season were Captain Robert Smith, Robert Shirley, Dale Smith, Donovan Price, Kenneth Winter, Ross Edwards, Dale Luwe, and Junior Reed. Edwards, Luwe, and Reed will be back to form the nucleus of next year's team.

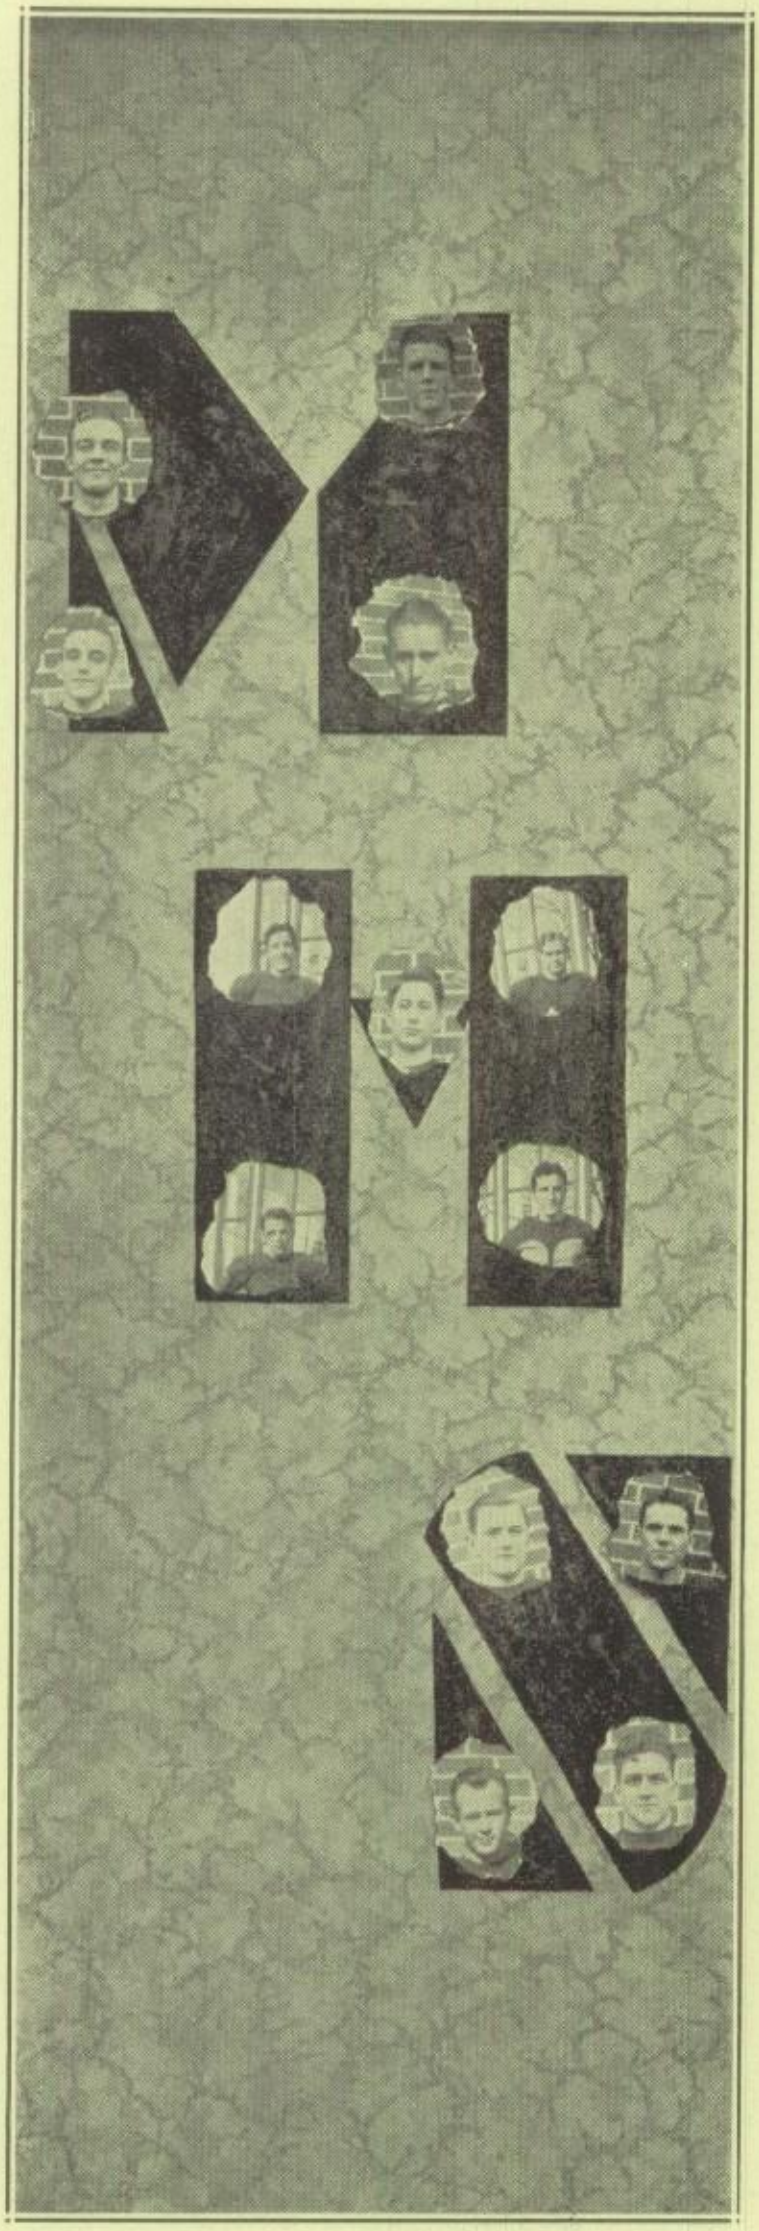
Football Lettermen



Our center was a boy named Bob;
He could be banked on to fill the job.

Smith, a triple threat man,
Would block and tackle as only he can.

Price, although a little man,
Was a whale of a battering ram.

Hatt ran interference from the line;
He did his work mighty fine.

King was valuable at one end;
He always had a hand to lend.

Fehr, though not very large,
Could hit his men like a huge freight barge.

Reed, too, was fast and small—
When Hunter was out, he carried the ball.

Gatewood was slow, but he was tough—
A valuable man when the going was rough.

Next year Ike will lead us on,
And we'll ring up victories one by one.

Gus has been at it for only a year,
But he gave the crowd many causes to cheer.

Hunter was spotted in every game,
But he seldom failed to make a gain.

Cob caught passes from every angle;
His brains got us out of many a tangle.

Widger and Hatt could both play guard;
So they battled it out on the old school yard.

Basketball Lettermen

Kenney was one of the four lettermen—
He did his work in the tournament.

Gus, a soph, played well and hard;
He'll take Smith's place next year at guard.

Donny was small but full of fight;
He did his best every single night.

Shirley jumped center because he was tall;
Grant was lost when he handled the ball

Bob was a steady guard all season;
Four years of playing was the reason.

Cob, a forward, fit the bill
His job next year will be hard to fill.

Luwe was only a soph this year;
We're glad he's coming back next year.

The sophs have another brilliant player in Reed;
He has everything Marion High will need.

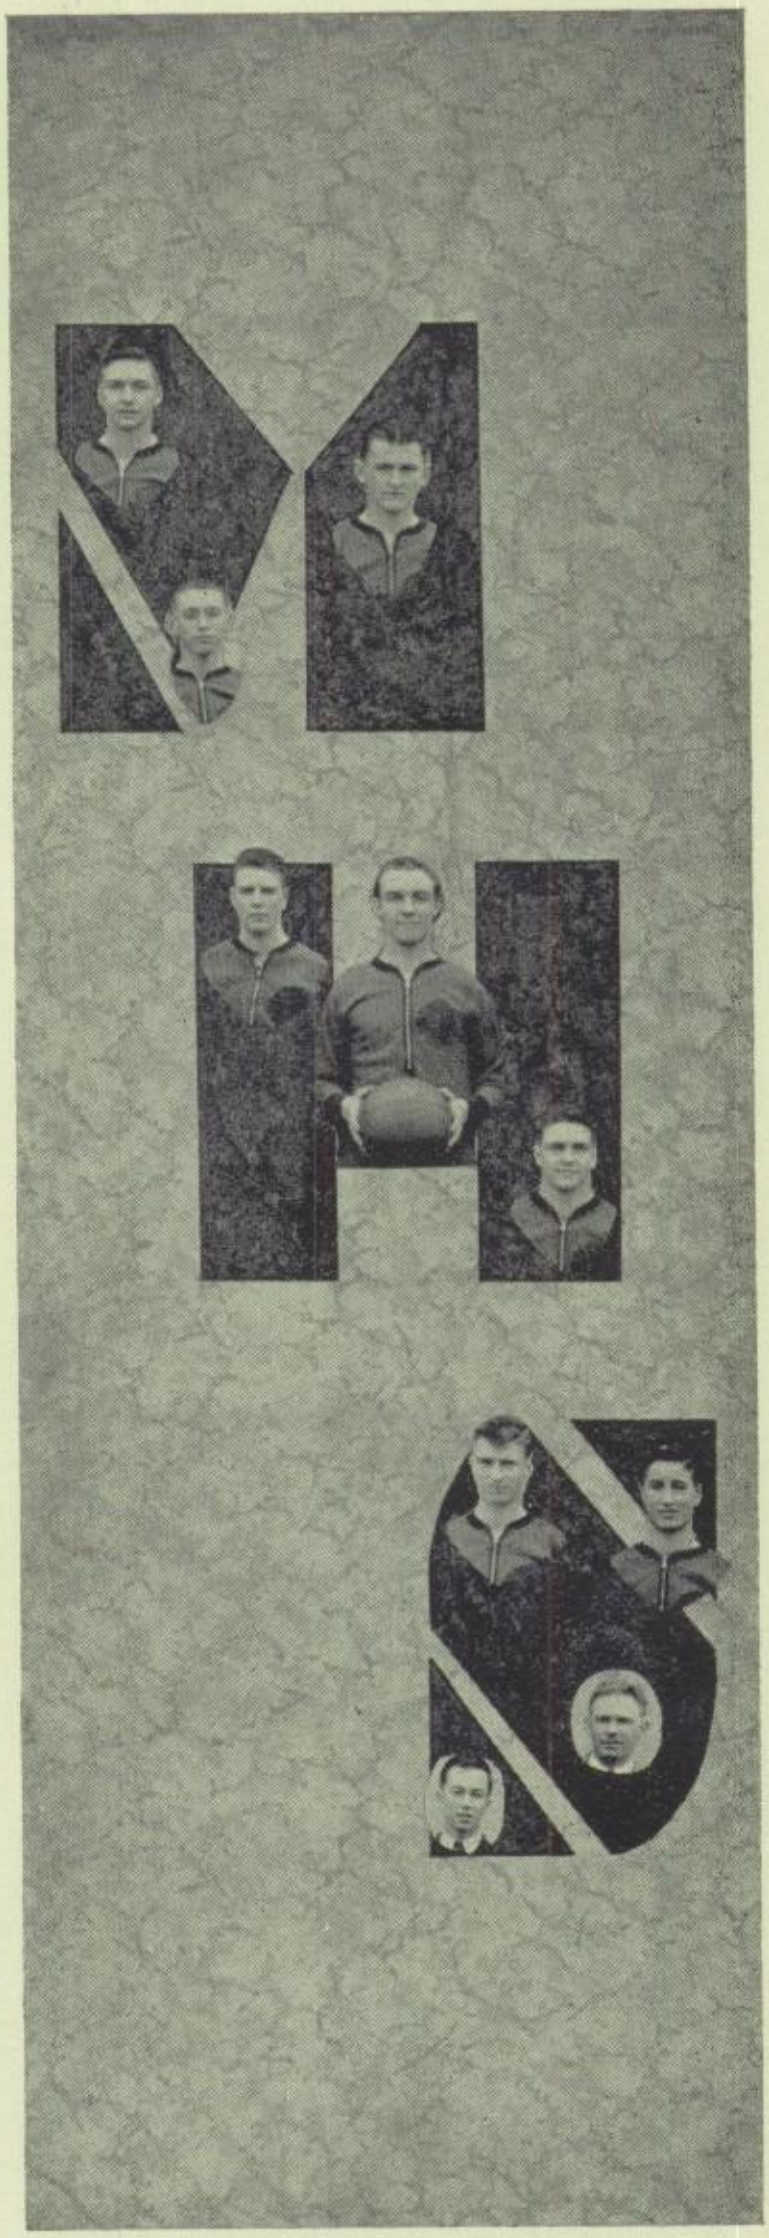
Coach had a job in teaching his style
of play,
But the team gradually learned it day
by day.

Every team has a manager, and
George was ours;
He shot baskets as well as got cars.



Back Row—James Reynolds, Rayworth Ozias, Clyde Lutz, Dale Luwe, Clinton Gatewood, George Oxley, Robert Smith.

Middle Row—Henry Arp, Dale Hazlett, Fay Harris, Billy Reed, Ivan King, Donald Nelson, Harold Horn.

1933 Track

One of the largest squads in several years reported to Coach Wolfe for track in 1933. The track in the old gym was used until the weather permitted the squad to go out-of-doors, and then the team rounded into shape by the use of the Coe track.

The squad did not participate in as many meets as usual due to the lack of funds. Wolfe proved his coaching ability by comprising a team of inexperienced and experienced men to win two trophies at State Teachers Relays, second place in the Tri-Valley meet held at Vinton, and fourth in the district meet at Coe.

The Meets

Iowa State Teachers Relays—Led by Captain Harte, the quarter and half mile relay teams, composed of Hunter, Atz, Harte, and McDougall, opened the schedule by breaking two records at I. S. T. The medley relay team placed second, the two mile third, and the mile fifth.

Grinnell—At Grinnell there was still competition by the larger schools, but James Reynolds placed second in the half mile run, and Hunter fourth in the low hurdles.

Tri-Valley—In this conference meet Hunter won the low hurdles, 100 and 220 yard dashes; Dale Smith placed in the quarter, James Reynolds in the half, Ray Smith in the shot put, Harte and McDougall in the dashes, Hempy in the half mile, and Brady in the discus.

Front Row—Margaret Bisek, Mabel Williams, Evelyn Peterson, Janet Lothian, Helen Sweeney, Harriett McDonnell.

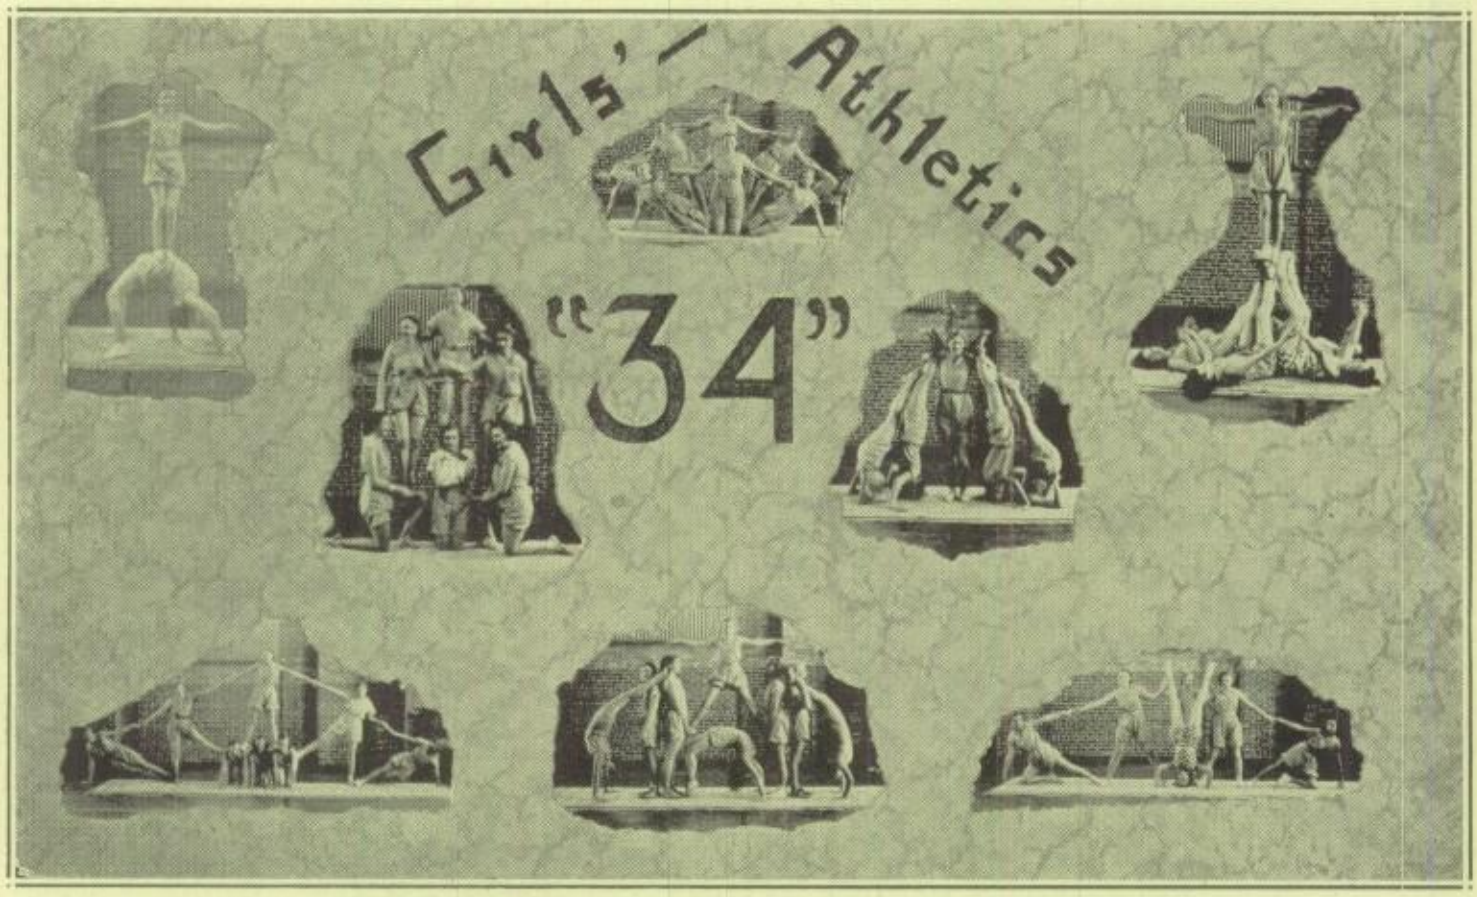
The girls' athletic association of Marion High School was organized nine years ago. It is one of the outstanding organizations in the school this year. Its chief interest is to promote fair play, sportsmanship, and to encourage the various sports and athletics among high school girls.



Girls' Athletics

Physical education has become one of the most essential features of the high school curriculum, combining in itself the aim of all education which is to show the way to better living and character development.

The immediate results of physical education in the way of physical well-being, so essential to success and happiness, are not to be overlooked. Co-ordination of muscles, body control, and poise are great assets to every girl in all phases of her life.

Much of the work accomplished this year, such as Danish gym, tumbling, basketball, volleyball, and various relays, is an important aid in obtaining these results.

FEATURE

Who's Who

Harriett McDonnell

Undoubtedly the fact that this is the second time she has been chosen for this honor proves that Harriett is deserving of the honor bestowed upon her. Her ever present smile, her sparkling wit and humor, and her friendliness to everyone with whom she comes in contact are undeniable evidences of her right to this honor.

Garth Hunter

His ability to make friends, his ever-ready wit and humor, his habit of looking at the humorous side of things, and his pleasant, genial manners are only a few of the reasons why this honor has been bestowed upon Garth. Besides this, he is an all around athlete, an active member of the various organizations, and a leader among his classmates. Those who know him will not question his right to be selected as the outstanding senior boy for 1934.

The Files!

Files !
Office Files !
Oblige me by referring to the files.
Every question man can raise
Every phrase of every phase
Of that question is on record in the files.
All our deeds at Marion High
In black and white that does not lie
May be found in the all-recording, all-effacing files.

Files !
Files of Life they're called !
Soon into this selfish world
Sixty-three of us will go
Every action, sorrow, woe
Triumph, victory will show
As blazes in the mazes of the files.

Files !
Files of Death !
When on the last day we kneel before His throne
And God turns the pages of the Book
Turns them back to take a look
To trace each all-forgot career
Review each man who made his boast
Hear the ghosts? May they wake applauding in the files.

The Files of Death !
The Files of Life !
Duplicates of Marion High's.
They'll stand forever—Time cannot mar
They'll tell the ages what we are.
Brother, keep your temper—light your pipe
Take a long look at those files
You've a better chance to guess
At the meaning of Success
When you see it in perspective in the files.

Class Song

(Tune—Boston University)

Through four short years we have studied here,
And how the time does fly;
For soon, too soon, the time has come
When we must say goodbye.
We leave our friends and our comrades true
That we met while here with you;
We'll ne'er forget the days gone by
We spent here, Marion High.

Chorus—
Marion, Marion, faithful to thee,
Marion, Marion, this our song shall be;
We'll be loyal for many a year
To the school we love so dear,
Honor and love for Marion, Marion High.
Marion, Marion, now the days are gone
Marion, Marion, we will raise this song,
Hear it echo on the air,
Winds relay it everywhere
Everything's right in Marion, M. H. S.

November

Nov. 3. Did we take Belle Plaine?
The Latin Club had a party.
"The" seniors were entertained at the Smith's apartment in honor of little Daley's birthday. Grand time!!!

Nov. 4. Biology classes went to the Palisades? Ask Billy how swimming was?

Nov. 6 Pye appears in black and white shoes all-l-l-l black? Are we glad?

Nov. 8. Dress rehearsal for operetta. We got out of school all afternoon.

Nov. 9. Melly's operation. "Oh Doctor."

Nov. 10. "Oh Doctor!" was as great a success as our game with Mt. Vernon.

Nov. 14. A little notice in the papers causes some trouble. Who's guilty? Who's married?

Nov. 15. Pugh—"What's a turnpike?""
Jessamine R.—"I don't know unless it's a dam." She didn't swear either.

Nov. 16. Didn't we surprise Monty?

Nov. 21. Who were the girls who were locked in the gym??? Tsk! Tsk!

Nov. 24. Sophomore party. We heard the punch was so thick they had to eat it with a spoon. Who's to blame for that? There's plenty of water in the country.

Nov. 27. What is it that Mae West has that all the girls want? It isn't curves either.

Nov. 28. Freshies beat Juniors in volleyball finals. What IS this younger generation coming to?

Nov. 29. Grade cards. Ugh!!

Nov. 30. Marion brought home the bacon. But—ha-ha—it was a turkey. Pa-lease don't mention turkey to me.

December

Dec. 6. Elected outstanding boy and girl—Who's it?

Dec. 7. G. A. A. party. Freshmen show considerable football talent in exhibition. If Wolfe lacks players next year, he should borrow several of the girl stars.

Dec. 8. Seniors plan party. Seniors had party.

Dec. 11. M. Wood had one of her frequent lunches today at 11:00.

Dec. 12 and 13. Hi-ho, hi-ho—Good times are coming; Lothian and Sloss appear in new sweaters.

Dec. 14. "Game" dinner given by Legion to football boys. Who had more pie, Donnie Price or Dick Hatt?

Dec. 15. Honors were paid to the Marion lettermen at Assembly. Tommy Hayden talked.
We went to Anamosa, we saw, we came home.

Dec. 16. Biology hike to Anamosa. Oh, my! Scout cabins, and caves, and everything.

Colleges were made by men leaving so much money and sometimes ministers would each leave a book to make a college.

The clothing of the colonists was homespun and held together better than they do now.

The coarse food of the colonists was healthier for them than the kind they use now.

They lived in log huts and in unpainted clap boards.

Their clothing was made by hand by women on spinning wheels.

The colonist lived in log houses and had a hard life, often with the bark on.

EXCHANGE, 1907

"Your paper is very neat but your exchange column is rather short."
—Carnival, Covina, Cal.

"Quill," Marion, Iowa: The column, "A Little Nonsense," is a good idea, for then the exchange jokes are kept from the exchange column.
—The Oriole, Grinnell, Iowa

The "Quill" is a neatly gotten up magazine, its cover design being especially attractive.—The Star of the Gulf, Tampa, Fla.

The "Quill" has increased in size which is a sure sign of prosperity. We wish you success, "Quill;" but we would like to see a few more jokes in your paper.—The Hyak, Tacoma, Washington.

Your paper is excellent, "Quill," Ia., but the cut for the editorials looks queer, as the editor is a boy.—Tattler, Nashua, New Hampshire.

The "Quill's" editorial on athletics is an earnest appeal which should be responded to by the athletes of the school.—Greylock Echo, Boston, Mass.

"Quill," a few more stories would make your paper more interesting.
—The Nugget, Baker City, Oregon.

The literary matter and cover design of the "Quill are good.
—Evening School Voice, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Your paper is very neat but your exchange column is rather short.

A few more cuts would make your paper more interesting.—High School Register, Burlington, Vermont.

"Fulcrum," Pratt, Kansas, is one of our largest exchanges, at least in length and breadth, if not in thickness. A good story and a few cuts would increase the interest in your paper.

"Porcupine," Santa Rosa, Cal.: Your Freshman number is very well gotten up; yet we missed your exchange column. Your joshes are many and the mixing them with the ads is a good idea, for then students will be more liable to read the advertisements.

"Sentinel," Los Angeles, Cal.: Your stories in the January number are original. The cuts in your paper add much to the interest of it.

BETTER LIGHT... BETTER SIGHT

Much interest is being shown this year in better room lighting. The slogan of today is Better Light—Better Sight. Every user from the smallest home consumer to the largest institutions is co-operating and striving to bring his lighting up to standard.

In recent tests, proper lighting of public schools and colleges has been found to not only increase the efficiency of the student, but also tends to make their work more enjoyable and retards to a marked degree the time when glasses are necessary.

This Company is actively interested in Better Light—Better Sight. May we help you?

IOWA ELECTRIC LIGHT and POWER COMPANY
MARION, IOWA

"Polytechnian," Fort Worth, Texas: The article about the national W. C. T. U. Convention is interesting.

"Dragan," Greenfield, Ohio: We are waiting patiently for the continuing chapters of your composite story. We hope they will bring as much credit as the chapters in the February number. Why not establish an exchange column?

We are glad to welcome the "Pulse," Cedar Rapids, Iowa, again. We had not received the last few copies for 1907.

"Quill," Norton, Kansas: We like your large exchange column.

"Stator," Corning, New York: Your paper is very well edited from beginning to end.

JOKES

Mr. Smith: "Who is the wild young lady I hear you've been running around with?"
Bob: "Aw dad, she's not wild; she's tame. Anybody can pet her."

Mary A: (at concert) "She has quite a large repertoire, hasn't she?"
Dot S.: "Yes, and that dress makes it look all the worse."

Excerpts from a Freshman letter to the folks back home:
. . . . . and I am gaining on this awful food. I weigh 120 stripped, but I don't know whether those scales down in front of the drug store are right or not.

Elaine E.: I have been a fool. I guess I was the early bird."
Win D.: "Why?"
Elaine E.: "I got the worm."

Garth Hunter took Elizabeth Sloss canoeing. When out in the middle of the lake, she refused to kiss him; so he paddled her back.

Miss Mentzer: "Nothing could be sadder than a man without a country."
Monk S.: "Nothing except a country without a man."

Don B.: "Thinking of me, dearest?"
Dot S.: "Was I laughing? Oh, I'm so sorry."

Miss Schrubbe: "John, how do you spell 'ninety'?"
John B.: "What do you mean—nightgown?"

Wife: "My husband gets up in time for the health exercises over the radio every morning."
Lady Friend: "I didn't know he took them."
Wife: "He doesn't, but the girl in the apartment across the court does."

Mr. Shutts: "Can anyone tell me what makes the Tower of Pisa lean?"
Elizabeth S.: "I don't know, or I would take some myself."

THE ANCIENT REVIEW

THIRTIETH ANNIVERSARY EDITION

Editor's Note:

This year, 1934, is the thirtieth anniversary of the "Quill." The first editions were printed in pamphlet form once a month starting in the year 1904. The earliest "Quills" were made up of several sections, arranged in the following order: Editorial, Literary, Local, Athletics, and Exchange. The Exchange was a column of comments, both critical and complimentary, on other school publications. Comments about the "Quill taken from other school Exchanges were also printed.

The following articles are excerpts from various editions of the "Quill" through the thirty years of its existence.

EDITORIALS
October, 1907

After much discussion among the members of the staff, it was decided to enlarge the "Quill" from the first issue, if not in number of pages, at least in size of them. In this way we hope to better the appearance of our publication, and later on we expect to be able to add more pages.

One of the most worthy institutions of our school last year was the Debating Club. Most of the boys took great interest in all the subjects and the work was marked by much originality of thought in the arguments propounded by the members. Much merriment was afforded by the trial.

May, 1907

The June number of the "Quill" will be given up almost entirely to Commencement and Class Day exercises. With this issue the 1907 editors bid farewell to the students of the school, exchanges, and all other subscribers. The year's work has been profitably spent by us and we hope that our subscribers have not been disappointed with our humble efforts. Next year the class of 1908 will have a chance to try their hand at high school journalism. We heartily hope that they may be strong where we have been weak and may make the "Quill" a true exponent of the high class work done in our Marion High School. We believe they will work with a determination to win the fullest success.

This notice would be incomplete without recognizing the part which Miss Jenkins has had in issuing the "Quill" this year. Her encouragement and untiring efforts in school and out have done much to add to the inexperience of the editors. We take this opportunity of showing our appreciation and we hereby thank her for her efforts.

LITERARY
November, 1907
"TO A MOUSE"

(With apologies to Burns)

Wee, sleekit, cow'rin', timorous beastie,
Cam's thou to seek a High School feastie?
What caused such pain in thy breastie,
When thou'dst appeared?
That cloud of gloom that fell sae hasty,
Thou shouldst have feared.

Ah, little mousie, thou didst stray,
Far from thy cozy home that day;
What did our High School Mistress say
Thy brains to rattle?
Sad lookers-on, not far away,
Saw all the battle.

Ah, yes! thou vainly strov'st thy best,
Thou couldst before thy doom have guessed;
For many an eye was on thy crest,
With thoughts of murder,
Thou might'st have fled back to thy nest
Hadst thou but heard her.

Wast thou by some foul mischief led?
Or was some Siren greeting said,
To lure thee on, to crush thee dead?
That swift foot-fall
That came so sudden on thy head
Has ended all. –Marie Cline, '08

ATHLETICS
May, 1907

The Girls' High School Basket Ball team was defeated by the Waterloo team on the return game, held on the Marion High School ground, Saturday, April 13. The score stood 7 to 6 at the end of the game, which shows that it was very close and exciting. As there was a strong wind blowing during the time of the play, few field baskets were made and team work was impossible, on account of the inaccurate throws, caused by the opposing winds. The visiting team was very fast and played a snappy game, although their tactics were very rough. Goldie Nichol, one of the forwards, had a very difficult opponent, who towered above her and caused considerable trouble. Mabelle Woodward handled the ball well at foul baskets, securing six throws for her team. May Harris of Waterloo played an excellent game as forward, although she made few field throws.

December, 1907

The Marion High School team played Anamosa a slippery game of basketball on a dancing floor at their town, Friday evening, Nov. 1st. It was the return game with Anamosa and was looked forward to with a great deal of interest. Although the game ended in disaster for Marion, it was a snappy game from start to finish. The odds Marion had to contend against went a long way toward defeating her. During the first half Marion did not get into the game as well as she did in the second half. Anamosa piled up a score of 17 to Marion's 5. This can be accounted for by the fact that the Marion boys found it hard work to stay on their feet and to make basket stops of a type new to them. During the second half Marion jumped into the game right from the start and showed she could play ball even though defeat was a foregone conclusion. The latter part of the last half showed Marion at her best. If they had played all through the game as they played then, the score would undoubtedly have been in her favor. Those who saw the game at Anamosa and the one at Marion say that the one at Anamosa was by far the better. As a whole it was a fast, clean game on both sides. The teams were a credit to their schools. Anamosa's ability at throwing baskets was a great point-winner for her, as she missed only two out of eleven free throws. Here Marion was decidedly weak. As to teamwork, Anamosa again excelled Marion. But as to individuals, Webb did some close guarding, Schultz played a strong game, while Rogers, Fulkerson, and Cornelius showed up well. On the Anamosa team, Fife starred in free throws at the basket, while Ellison and Fisher made good in throwing field baskets. The line-up was as follows:

Marion—Rogers, r. f.; Cornelius, l. f.; Shultz, c.; Webb, r. g.; Fulkerson, l. g.

Anamosa—Fife, r. f.; Fairbanks, l. f.; Barker, c.; Fisher, r. g.; Ellison, l. g.

A number of boys, accompanied by their coach, Mr. Boyer, went over to Anamosa to attend the return game of basketball. The game was played in the evening, thus necessitating the boys to stay over night. They returned the next morning, declaring the Anamosa people to be royal hosts.

On Friday, Nov. 15, the boys of the school had their first cross country run. The Freshmen showed their athletic ability by winning first and third places, Harold Reid and Donald Lawrence making 5 and 3 points respectively. Second place was won by Stewart Rodger of the Eleventh Grade. Should any one of these boys win the final race, his name will be engraved on the cup presented last year by Merle Alderman for this event. The boys did exceedingly well, covering the ground in 9:40.
